

Bodmin College and Jason Thomas Dance School Partnership Rationale

The intention of the partnership is one in which we enable wider access to appropriate high quality educational provision in line with ESFA List of qualifications approved for funding 14-19 . The courses will be delivered over a one year period. The partnership will work to ensure compliance and excellence in:

- the management and control of the contract
- the welfare of the young people involved
- students' access to the full entitlement of study programmes and student support
- the overall quality of the education and/or training being delivered under the subcontracting arrangement

The rationale for the partnership is agreed by governors and meets the following aims as per ESFA Funding guidance for young people 2022 to 2023 and Subcontracting control regulations, July 2020.

The partnership aims to:

- Enhance the opportunities available to young people
- Fill gaps in niche/expert provision and provide better access to training facilities to young people

Duration: The project will start on September 1st 2022 and conclude on 31 August 2023.

Finance

BC will receive 100% of the AWPU from the ESFA and deduct 20% to administration costs with 80% being invoiced by JTDS.
